The story of Ridgeway, starts with the end of another story. In 2002 the venerable Brakspear brewery in Henley-on-Thames was sold and everyone who worked there was let go. Brakspear's master brewer, Peter Scholey, was determined to strike out on his own. He started Ridgeway Brewing, not far from Henley and has been putting out fantastic beers ever since.

Falling from the sky like little bombs of flavour come the Reindeer Droppings! Each one is sweet like California raisins, but bitter and pungent like a freshly peeled grapefruit, lip-smackingly tasty... then 'POW!' it's gone.

How did that happen?
